Acts of Vengeance is a Metal band based in London, England who play original music in the style of Metallica, Pantera, Godsmack and Slayer.

The band formed in 2013 when Martin Machin (lead guitar) and Mike Reith (drums) joined forces with singer Sam Tracii (ex H.O.S.T.). Long-time friend and music collaborator Andrew Came (lead guitar) completed the line-up in 2017. The band quickly established a reputation for awesome live performances and heavy music with a melodic vision.

What gives ACTS OF VENGEANCE a different edge in modern metal is the rich vein of melody and hard rock in their music. Their sound pays homage to the greats and yet finds its own place and relevance in the current metal landscape. They are an infusion of heavy catchy riffs, basslines that don't just follow the root, pounding driving rhythms, classic rock/metal guitar solos and Pantera/Alter Bridge style vocals.

In 2016 they released their much anticipated album, 'Slaves to Sin' with an album launch party at the O2 Academy 2 in Islington, London. At the same time they released their innovative debut music video for 'Hurricane'.

In 2018 they released an EP entitled 'Rise Again' featuring 3 brand new tracks; Torn, When I Fall and Rise Again. They have an exciting group of demos and are currently working towards their 2nd full length album.

Acts of Vengeance have their own style, their own drive and they look forward to promoting their music and performing at festivals in the UK and beyond.

RISE AGAIN EP Review – Down The Front Media

The 'Rise Again' EP comprises of three tracks, beginning with 'Torn', which is a brooding song that brims over with melodious riffs, thundering drums and chugging bass lines, overlaid with atmospheric vocals. 'When I Fall' is an expressive song with classic riffs, galloping drums and passionate vocals. The guitar solos after the bridge change from delicate to brash in the blink of an eye and are absolutely blistering. 'Rise Again' is the most intense of the three tracks and is an exhilarating, riotous ride. Brutal drums and resonating bass provide a powerful, driving rhythm with the dual lead guitars perfectly wrapped around the vocals. The three quite different songs on this EP show the complex creativity and diversity within the band as far as songwriting is concerned.
